Stan: Since it will utilize the same bracket, and it appears to be the same "general" size, I think that it will be fine. We look forward to your opening.

Hi Catherine,

I've attached a proof of the sign we'd like to put in the existing bracket that was previously used by Color Me Mine. We'd create some ridges similar to the style that the Salt Exchange sign has. And the letters and paintbrush will be raised by half an inch to add some texture to it.

Seem ok? I'm also copying Jenny from Southpaw Signs here (she did Salt Exchange as well) ... feel free to cc her with any comments.

Thanks,
Stan
