Hi Ann,

I have attached a plan showing where the panels will be from an aerial view. Let me know if this works for you.
Also, the panels will be mounted on the side of the building with custom brackets. Sorry for any confusion in the wording and documents!

Thanks,

The application talks about installing the panels on the side of the building and that is what the picture shows but the permit letter states that the roof structure can handle the weight of the panel load. Also the mounting specs sheet shows a roof mount Platform. Are the panels on the side or the roof?
