

|  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |                                                                        |                                                                                                                    |               |
|--|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------|
|  | East End Elementary SchoolPortland, Maine                                                                                                                                                                                                     | Date: 04.15.2004Scale: AS NOTEDDrawn by: camChecked by: jh | Hollow Metal Door Details                                                                                   | <h1>A7.2</h1> |
|  | Consultants:Deluca-Hoffman AssociatesLandscape ArchitectCarroll AssociatesPinkham & GreerMechanical EngineerBennett EngineeringElectrical EngineerBartlett DesignInterior DesignTJM ConsultingFore Solutions |                                                                        | 10 Devon StreetPortland, ME 04103Phone: 207.623.2000Fax: 207.623.2005Email: info@foresolutions.com |               |