Mark,

I have a letter that will be going out to you. But I also attached it in this email so you can get a head start on the process. Any questions I would contact our zoning department. They handle the process for illegal units.

Regards,

Jason

This is all new and discouraging news to me. My ex wife assured me that the conversion to a 3 unit was complete. We divorced shortly after purchasing the house and have had no contact with each other since.

What do I need to do and when?
