Hi Chris!

This is from our sign maker
"They are 3"x1/8" threaded stud mounted letters."

Thank you.

Yes - one last question. Do you know how they plan to attach the sign to the facade? If your sign maker can provide attachment details (type and size of bolts), that would be very helpful.

Thanks,
Chris

No problem! They will be made separately and mounted in one piece. The lettering will be individually cut and mounted. Does this help?

Hi Tom,

I am reviewing your application for signs at 77 Market St. Can you provide any information on the construction and attachment of the wall signs? Are they going to be separately made and attached, or is it just going to be painted lettering onto the existing surface?

Thanks,
Chris
