Hi Kevin,

I have been working through this situation with Belinda, my city councilor and Carol, on the planning board. I will be applying for the legalization of a non-conforming unit instead of the change of use. There are some amendments coming to the FBC that will allow the process of legalizing a non-conforming unit. It will make things much more clear for everyone!

Thanks for checking,
Bethany

Bethany, I have spoken with Zoning about your property. I think they were awaiting for something official regarding whether or not you were going to apply for a change of use ect for the extra unit there.

Have you filed for anything at this point?
