

Hi Barbara,

I have attached a picture of an L-bracket that is like the ones we will use to mount the sign. We will drill into the building, place metal anchors in the brick, fasten the L-Brackets to the anchors and then mount the sign to the L-Brackets. The anchors are not overly invasive and will not be visible once the sign is in place. A small piece of the L-bracket will be visible but we can paint them white so they will blend in with the sign.

Please let me know if you need additional information.

Thank you!

Ben
