To Whom It May Concern,

I, Beth Paterson, lived at 236 State Street in the 2nd floor studio apartment for over 10 years, from about 1979-1990. I found the apartment entirely suitable as a studio apartment, with fully equiped kitchen (stove, refrigerator, sink, cabinets and counter), bathroom (sink, toilet, and shower), bedroom, and main living room. There was an independent heat supply at the time--kerosene heat. There were adequate electrical outlets in each room and also closet or storage space--i.e. shelves in the bathroom, closet and built in shelves in the bedroom, cabinets in the kitchen. I was very comfortable in the apartment.

Sincerely,
