418 overdose deaths in Maine last year. Zero options for treatment or treatment beds in Portland. Maine med is expanding again. Over 500 million this time zero treatment options. This expansion in health treatment areas that make money for them. While taking taxable property off the rolls. Organizations have asked Maine med again and again to contribute something to this opioid crisis and they have contributed zero. I am all for them making money but are they a part of the community or just a for profit business.
