Dear Chuck,

I was working as a handyman on a 3 unit building at 87 Gray St. owned by a Fred Christman and noticed that there were no Fire Doors at all. The apartment I went in had one smoke detector in the living room, but I couldn't tell if it was hard-wired or a battery one. At any rate, the smoke detector was pretty old. There wasn't anything blocking the hallways. The interior paint was in bad condition, it was flaking off in a lot of places. It was coming off in big flakes. It hasn't been painted in years. The unit I went in was occupied. The front door never seems to be locked. Please at least refer this to the Fire Department.
I know you from my place at 11 George Street.

Thanks,

Paul Louis
