The original application did not include this addition and they decided they wanted to include it. So I think these need to be uploaded to E-Plan, Urban Insight description/info updated, and they need to be billed for the additional cost of work. Is that ok?

Chris, do you need us to do anything with this? The applicant called back and was not clear this was being added to an already existing permit in review.

Here are the plans for proposed addition plus the plot plan. I figure the addition will be an extra $15,000. The electrical and plumbing should not change. Any questions please contact me.
