Gary-- it looks like this application has already been pulled by another electrician. Can you clarify what's going on?

According to Ann Brant, she had a previous electrician who did not return calls, and so she told him he would not be doing the job. I don't know anything beyond that. I guess this means he has already paid for a permit that he cannot use.

In that case, I'll process this as a transfer and bill you for the transfer fee.
