Dear Ms. Westwood:

In researching your application for a variance, I found that your house was built in 1947, which pre-dates the current City Zoning Ordinance of 1958, and therefore the existing side yard setback is "grandfathered." Because it is grandfathered, there is a section of the Zoning Ordinance, which permits an extension of a building which existed prior to the Ordinance.

Section 14-436 of the Zoning Ordinance which is entitled "Building Extensions" reads as follows:

"A building existing on June 5, 1957, the height, yards and other open spaces of which conformed with the provisions of the zoning ordinance then in effect for new buildings may be extended upward throughout its area to the full height permitted herein for new buildings and may be extended horizontally provided the width and the depth of no yard or other open space which is less than that permitted herein is thereby reduced to less than the minimum width or depth of such yard or open space as existing on June 5, 1957."

In short, you can therefore apply for a building permit for the deck which you have added to your house, without the necessity for going to the Board of Appeals. We have therefore deleted this item from the agenda for the Board of Appeals, and you may now apply for a building permit to construct the deck which was added to your residence, without the necessity for requesting an appeal or variance.

Sincerely,

Warren J. Turner
