Mr Axelson,

I am in receipt of your permit application to erect a new 20' x 24' storage building for the cemetery located at 2086 Congress Street. Your building permit can not be approved at this time. The property is located in an R-1 Residential Zone which requires a conditional use appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals for the building expansion of the use. You will also need to apply for a site plan review through the Planning Division. The appeal and site plan review must be done prior to being issued a building permit. Therefore, your permit is on hold until such time that your other approvals have been completed.

Please call or e-mail for further information concerning how to appeal to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

thank you,
Marge Schmuckal
