To whom it may concern,

Phyllis Warchol has my permission to locate her food truck on my lot at 600 Riverside St Portland.

The truck will be located in the more northern side, closer to the street near the grass area where the trees are, south of where the city recently put in a new curb cut. My understanding is she will have some tables in the grass area for her clients use.

She has access to our facility wash sink and bathroom should she need them for her operation. There is an electrical outlet in the area.
