Hope this plan works. The draftsman dropped the garage wall 6", She was supposed to drop the wall height on the second floor 3" as well but didn't decrease that. Hopefully I can just drop the wall height during construction rather than having the plan drawn again. I plan on the second floor wall height to be 7'2" which will be a total of an 8" drop total. Please let me know as soon as you could to let me know if this will be sufficient. Thanks again for your help...Stan.

Hi Stan,
I updated the garage plan based on your voicemail.
Hope this is a go!
Let me know
Thanks, Deirdre

Hi Stan,

If you drop the upstairs wall to 7'2" instead of 7'5", you will just squeeze in to the 18' height limit. I am going to put a note on the plan since the draftsman missed that. I am also going to have to building code reviewer take one more look just in case these alterations cause any code issues. If so, he'll contact you directly. I think I'm all set from a zoning perspective.

Thanks for your patience as we finish up the review.

Chris
