Justin,

The following is a narrative code review for your proposed division on the large space on your plan sketch into 5 studio spaces.

- The uses of the spaces is to match the other studio spaces in the building
- The doors to the studio spaces shall be type 'A' doors as indicated on our original plans
- The interior non-load bearing walls are to be type 'NA' as indicated on our original plans

The original code review document on file with the City shall apply for this diminimus change.

Thanks,
