OK with zoning (finally!). Permit #20106-00471, issued 5/4/16, approved a change of use to an auto repair garage.

They did finally submit an application (yay!). It will still probably be another month or so before the permit is issued, though. I will let you know as soon as it is.

They haven't submitted anything, I need to send them a violation letter which has been on my list for awhile!

Unfortunately it does not appear they have submitted the application yet. I just sent another e-mail checking in and asking him to get in by the end of next week. If not I will have to send a formal violation letter. I will keep you posted.

Looks like Ann spoke to him at the time of the last request and told him he needed a change of use, but he still has not submitted anything. I will get back in touch with him to remind him.
