Good morning,

I'm writing to strongly oppose the design and new setback for a proposed structure at 10 Island Street. Not only is the home way out of character with the neighborhood's clapboard cottages in one of the only Portland neighborhoods directly on the coast but the proposed setback would decimate the overall feel of the neighborhood, create an eyesore, block views and generally destroy the vintage charm of this truly unique neighborhood of approximately sixty houses.

I imagine you will have public meetings around this zoning change. Can you kindly advise when they will take place? I haven't received anything advising me of the zoning change or letting us know of the proposed construction.

Thank you.
