Matt:

The only documentation I have of the fee waiver is the email below from the Assistant City Manager, Anita LaChance.

Will email correspondence suffice? Would you mind sending the email below? If it doesn't satisfy the city staff, I will reach out again to Anita.

According to Anita's email, they should have received notice.

Hi Austin. We did meet last week. The City Manager has approved waiving of the permit fee. We aren't in a position to waive the dumping fee since that would be an out of pocket expense for the City. I will email the City's Building Inspections Division to let them know that the permit fees have been waived.

Good Morning Anita;

I wanted to follow up with you on the planning and dumping fees for the improvements to the Casco Bay Ferry Terminal.

When we last exchanged emails, you were about to review the matter with the city manager.
Is there any news to report?

Thanks and Happy Holidays, Austin
