City of Portland, Maine
Board of Appeals

—ZONING—

Decision

Public hearing was held on the 18th day of April, 1947, on petition of John B. Collins, owner of property at 89 Sheridan Street, seeking to be permitted an exception to the regulations of the Zoning Ordinance relating to this property.

Application for building permit to cover 2-story addition and new open piazza at 89 Sheridan Street, corner of Cumberland Avenue, is not issuable under the Zoning Ordinance because the proposed 2-story addition and the 2-story open piazza would be 9 feet from the westerly side property line instead of the minimum allowable of 10 feet and the 2-story open piazza would be only 5 feet from the rear property line instead of the minimum allowable of 7-1/2 feet, with as stipulated by Section 7B and C of the Zoning Ordinance applying to the Apartment House Zone in which the property is located.

The Board finds that an exception is necessary in this case so as to grant reasonable use of and to avoid confiscation of this property and that the appeal can be granted without substantially departing from the intent and purpose of the Zoning Ordinance.

It is, therefore, determined that exception to the Zoning Ordinance may be permitted in this specific case.
